

SCHOOL OF LEADERS
REPORT TO SECRETARIAT
September 22, 2009

Attendance for the month of September started out slow with only 10 attending on Tuesday, but an additional 16 attended on the Wednesday session. The presentations by Tony Perez and Greg LaCroix on "Sunday" from the expanded schedule were well received and generated some lively conversations among the School members. Although the issue of Mananitas was not discussed at the Tuesday School, the Wednesday School discussed both sides of the issue, but it was agreed that "God works no matter what!"

Mary and Dave Casselman will be speaking in October on the expanded schedule how to prepare the Ideal Rollo. This, and subsequent Rollo presentations, will focus on where the Rollo falls in the weekend, where the candidates are, the tone of the presentation, etc., rather than the specifics of what is to be included in the presentation.

The 2009-2010 schedule is still developing with many slots open for willing presenters. Suggestions of both lay and clergy are welcomed and encouraged.

Respectfully submitted,

Denise Flemister
School of Leaders Coordinator
